Dear Authors

Your manuscript entitled "Implementation of Multi-Channel Distribution as an Alternative Marketing Caught Fish to Increase The Income Of Fisherman Households In South Sulawesi" which discusses the trade in fresh sea fish commodities influenced by the marketing function carried out, by carrying out product verification to add added value an item. With the assumption that product improvements will increase the number of business partners so that sales and profits will increase.

In order for this manuscript to be published, there are several problems that need to be resolved. I hope the following recommendations will be useful for writers.

Introduction

In the introduction, product verification must be described which can increase the number of business partners and thereby increase sales and profits in the process of increasing fishermen's household income.

Methods

The methodology section is written in the order 1) Research Location, 2) Population and Sample, 3) Types and Sources of Data, 4) Data Collection Techniques, and 5) Data analysis.

Research Results and Discussion

- In this section the results and discussion are combined according to the existing template.
- In this section it is also necessary to reveal product diversification steps which are a form of change in producer behavior.

The article must necessarily be divided into: 1. Introduction (in running text, without subtitles, presenting contextualization, objective or research question and justification), 2. Theoretical Framework, 3. Methodology, 4. Results and Discussion, 5. Conclusion. Overall, I recommend shortening the list of citations. Use the ones that are most important and relevant to your study.

If you have any questions, please contact me. Thank you for considering this journal as your workplace.
